FUND MANAGER UPDATE

Stock Selection process: Focusing on high-growth companies that benefit from government capex, such as power, construction, data center. Favouring companies with strong cash flows and project execution capabilities.

Active bets: Our overweight on electrical equipment and industrial products

CONVICTION SECTORAL POSITIONING

Overweight (O/W)

Electrical Equipment and Industrial Products: Government infrastructure spending, renewable energy and data center are driving demand for smart grids, substations, and high-voltage transmission lines. Leading players are undertaking expansions to overcome capacity constraints. Companies are reporting decent order books and order pipeline that ensure strong earnings visibility. Supply chain bottlenecks, which result in higher costs of commodities, may have a short-term impact on margins, but companies employ pass-through pricing to transmit inflationary pressure to end customers while also focusing on increasing operational efficiency.

Banks: Improvement in the key financial matrix of banks such as asset quality, ROA, along with reasonable valuations, provide additional comfort. Recently introduced ECLGS 5.0 to provide additional working capital support to existing borrowers to maintain business continuity, and address short-term liquidity mismatches through additional credit backed by govt guarantee.

Underweight (U/W)

Petroleum Product: Primarily, to avoid concentrated position on a single name that has a significant weight in the index. Also remained underweight towards upstream oil companies due to volatile crude prices, geopolitical tensions, and shifting demand dynamics.

Telecom: Primarily, to avoid concentrated position on a single name that has a significant weight in the index.

FUND MANAGER OUTLOOK

This sectoral fund to play the India Infrastructure development story and invests across cap curves in infrastructure and related stocks.

Macroeconomic pressures, such as a depreciating rupee and inflation, have prompted concerns about the fiscal leeway for domestic spending. Conversely, global events are accelerating India's domestic capex boom as policymakers shift focus to energy security, defence, and data centres.

Apart from central government's investments, we expect the CPSUs to continue investments in sectors like Power, coal gasification. Pick-up in private capex, along with government capex, would benefit the overall industrial sector.

Even though some of the portfolio companies are currently trading at the upper end of their historical valuations but their growth reflects their market leadership and future earnings visibility. At the same time, we are also booking some profit when the opportunities arises.
