FUND MANAGER UPDATE

This fund had a weighted average dividend yield of approximately 2.4% at the end of February 2026, compared to the Nifty 500 index dividend yield of around 1.19% (Source: Bloomberg)

Stock Selection process: Regular, stable cash flow by investing primarily in companies with a consistent track record of paying dividends. We would avoid sectors where there is (1) low free cash generation and (2) lack of dividend paying history.

Active bets: Our overweight on power, realty, and oil sector as they have history of paying dividends and most of the companies in these sectors have a stable cash flows. We have invested in REITs to have stability during volatility in equity markets, along with attractive yield.

CONVICTION SECTORAL POSITIONING

Overweight (O/W)

Power: Defensive investments, offering a mix of steady growth and consistent dividends, supported by high demand for power infrastructure. Some of these companies are also expanding into renewables energy and also likely to benefit from transmission infrastructure investments.

Oil: Good dividend yields and reasonable P/E ratios, making them attractive to value-focused, defensive portfolios.

Underweight (U/W)

Finance & Retailing: We have reduced our exposure in these areas to focus on sectors where we see better immediate potential for growth.

Pharma: There is short-term earnings pressure and regulatory uncertainty in the U.S. market, which remains the largest export destination for major pharma companies. In hospitals most of the stocks are trading at higher valuations, hence limited exposure in those names.
